WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

Growing in Favour. London, Feb. 17. "The Times," which prides itself above all things on the accuracy of its news, has given a practical expression of its confidence in the Marconi system of wireless telegraphy. It has published from its New York correspondent, Mr G. W. Smalley, a column and a half of news received by Marconigram across the Atlantic, and it is understood that the service is sufficiently perfected to enable "The Times" to publish weekly message of the same length.

A TEMPLE OF MYSTERY

South Indian Legend.

Almost every South Indian village says a correspondent in the "Madras Mail," has its own host of demi-gods and every village demi-god has his own story. One of the most famous of these gods "Karuppanasawmy on eighteen steps, whose temple is situated at the foot of the Alagar hills 12 miles to the north-east of Madura. The malarial climate of the locality scares away intending Settlers and there is no human dwelling in the vicinity. There is but one other edifice near by and that is the temple of Kalla-Alagar (a representation of God Vishnu as a beautiful baudit). The temple of Karuppana has a lefty tower crected over the main entrance in the usual style of South Indian Gopurants. The entrance is guarded by two big gates whith have not been opened within the memory of living men. The puje is done to the doors, sandal-paste is smared on the doors, incense is offered to the doors and long flower garlands are thrown on them. The devotees of the Swami muster strong at the time of a festival held in May and make grand demonstrations of their devotion before the doors. While the incense is burning they raise an eldritch cry to the accompaniment of the beating of large cymbals, and the surrounding slopes of the hill, devoid of human habitation, render the weired scene most unearthy.

Every child in the neighbouring villages has heard from its grandmother the story of the closed gates. There was a time when the gates of Karuppana's Temple were not perpetually closed. The priest would open then every morning to enter into the temule and after finishing the puja close them for the day. One of the hereditary priests of the temple one day took his five years old child with him to the temple and forgot to take him out when leaving it. On reaching home he discovered what he had done but to open thegates again the sameday was out of question. He assured his wife that the child would be protected by the god, but she would not be consoled and gave her liusband to udiscretand that le must bring the child back or not enter the house at all. The priest accordingly went to the temple again and standing at the gate begged the god to permit him to open the gate and take out his child The god, however, would on no account allow the gates to be opened again, but assured the priest that he would take care of the child till the next day.

The priest returned home and told his wife what Karuppana had told him. The wife was not satisfied. "You do not know," she said, "the nature of the god to whom you have entrusted my child. He is a bloodthirsty devil and the child is no longer ours." The priest went back to the temple again and again requested Karuppana to allow the gate to be opened. The god again refused permission to open the gate and repeated the assurance of the child's safety. The priest went home and narrated to his wife what had passed, but the wife would not accept the god's assurance. Nothing would satisfy her but the production of her child. The priest entreated her to bear with Karuppana for a day, but the only set up a cry and accused him of having sacrificed the child to Karuppana. The priest then went to the temple a third time and prayed for permission to open the gates and take his child. The god then lost ail patience with his priest and all the savage fury in him asserted itself. "You vile wretch," said Karuppana "you would offend me to please your wife, doubt my words believing your wife's. Here is your child take him." With this he tore the child into email pieces and threw them out through the key hole of the door.

Since then no human hands have dared to open the door of Karuppana's temple and what lies beyond the door no human eyes have seen. The most strong-minded man feels a quiver passing through his Karappana and the ghastly story comes back to his mind in all its vivid details, The temple of Karuppannasawmy, or eighteen steps" remains to this day temple of mystery.

KIAO-CHAU.

Should it be Restored to China? The question of restoring Kiao-chau to China has been brought up before the Reichstag by the Budget Commission, which has asked the Government whether it would not be better to restore to China Kiao chau and all the adjacent territory, which Germany has held since 1897, and of which the area is 200 square miles. The Budget Commission is of opinion that the future of the Protectorate is extremely doubtful. Herr von Schoen, in replying, drew attention to the political importance of Kino-chan, and declared that the restoration of Kino-chau to China would be regarded as being "a sign of Gormany's weakness, of which it would be impossible to foretell the consequences." Herr von Schoen romarked that the British colony of Hongkong had not grown to its present flourishing state in one day, | notified that from 1st of April, 1908, and there was every reason to believe that until farther notice, the charges of Tele- Moji March 21, Coal and General .- JAVAthere was a better future in store for Kiao- grams will be collected at therate of dollars | OHINA-JAPAN LIJN. chau. The expenditure on the Protectorate [0.44 to equal Fr 1 03 in China has been very great, and it is believed that Germany would be ready to restore the territory to China if the latter would recompense Germany for its outlay there during the last ten years. TOO OLD TO GET WELL

THAT IN WHAT THE DOCTORS SAID OF THIS VENERABLE LADY IN CEYLON,

Vet Hen Pars Were Banished and Her HEALTH WAS RESTORED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

COME of the most remarkable cures wrought by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills LIMITED. for Pale People have been in cases given up by the medical men as hopeless owing to the patients' advanced age. Such an one was that for Mrs Dias, of 890 Katukelle. Kandy, Ceylon.

"About two years ago my mother, who is now 60 years of age, commenced to soffer

PAINS IN THE JOINTS. and especially in the legs and arms," said this lady's son, Mr D. M. Dins, who resides at "Clivedon," Trincomalie Street, Kandy. "These pains ultimately became so lad that she was confined to bed," he continued, "and they gradually spread through her whole leady, reducing her to a state of extreme help essness. She lost all desire ITHE Steamship for food could hardly eat anything; she vstem was out of order.

sattend my mother, but the medicines they stored at Consignees' risk and expense. prescribed proved of little use she seemed to get no better. The doctors then said that she could NEVER GET WELL AGAIN, as she was so old; and this cominion was held also by our friends, all of whom were sure that her case was hopeless. You will understand how serious her condition was, when I tell you that she was confined to bed for about a year, during the whole of which time she had to be waited in night and day.

"When my mother had thus been bedridden for nearly twelve months. I received a pamphlet about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. What I read therein made me decide to try if these Pills would help here so I bought a bottle. The good she derived from taking these Pills was so great that I purchased a further supply and she went on taking them, improving daily as she did so. Her appetite returned, she began to sleep well at night, she was able to get up out of bed, and the pains became daily less and loss. After finishing a few more bottles she was able to walk about as well as ever she had done, her Hongkong Tides.

The tide table given below has been compiled at the Nautical Almanac Office in Lond on from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the year: 1887-8-9.2

the zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the soundings in the Admiralty Charts which has been found to be 4 feet 3 mches below mean sea level.

To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 3 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamont Dook, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 6 inches to the height given in the table.

The Prinz Ludwig arrived from Yokohama this morning, having a general cargo and a large number of passengers aboard.

Captain G. D. Rushton, of the Singapore steamer Ban Hong Liong, which arrived at Singapore from Bangkok, on March 20 reports that as he was in latitude rees 59 minutes north and longitude 100 degrees 40 minutes East last, he lowered a boat to examine a fairly large wellbuilt raft with a human body lashed in the centre and covered with a white cloth. The boat could not get close on account of the danger of being stove in by projecting PECULIAR SHIPPING ACCIDENT.

Our Hakedate correspondent says

Kobe exchange informs us that amther peculiar accident at Othru to the S S. "Katanga" (3300 tons gross) brought that vessel into Hakodate on the 7th just. for repairs. Her cargo consists principally of a number of American locomotives, etc. for the Hokkuido Railways, and while a case of machinery parts weighing 8 or 9 tous was slung from the derrick, the mainmast crumpled close to the deck and slowly fell aft along in a twisted mass, badly damaging a 30.11 steam winch which it struck. The wooden 80 04 top section was broken in several pieces. 30.00 The case which proved too great a stmin on 65 the most appears to have dropped gently 67 back into the held again, without, as far as 68 is known, doing any particular hur, and 68 considering everything, it seems mirroulous KA that the results were not more sprious. 66 Some slight damage to deck house was 69 done, but no accident to limb or loss of life 6.5 is generical. After rigging up temperary shear-legs as substitute, the vessel will return to 0 aru to complete her discharge. She should be able to leave Hakodate in the course of 5 or 6 days.
